East County Clinics Established

Rabies Outbreak in Back-country May Bring Animal Quarantine

A voluntary "flying squad" of county veterinarians will set up vaccination centers in the east county back-country to help quell an epidemic of rabies, it was learned this week.

The San Diego Department of Public Health said earlier this week that there "is apparently an epidemic" in south-eastern S.D. County.

Dr. Robert Burns, a Lemon Grove veterinarian, chairman of the profession's rabies committee, established three clinics to be operated on a non-profit basis next week. On April 27, a clinic will be held at Los Flores school in Jamul and at the Forestry Fire Station at Campo. On April 28, a clinic is scheduled at Barrett Store at Dulzura. The community of Jamul is 9 miles east of here. All the clinics will be from 2 to 4 p.m. and a standard charge of $1.50 will be made.

Cases Expected
Dr. J. B. Askew, director of public health warned that more cases of rabies among dogs as well as wild animals are to be expected. He said that if the situation "becomes desperate" he will quarantine the area. Under a quarantine, dogs running at large not carrying vaccination tags, will be held for observation six months at the owners' expense. Dogs with tags, running at large, will be held for observation 30 days.

Dr. Askew urged all dog owners to keep their dogs' vaccinations up to date with rabies vaccinations at intervals of not less than two years. He emphasized that unprotected dogs and dogs whose vaccinations have expired should be vaccinated by a veterinarian at once.

Rabies Confirmed
The Public Health Laboratory confirmed the presence of rabies in a stray dog that died a quarter of a mile east of the Potrero Valley Store on Wednesday after biting a 5-year-old girl on the lip. Dr. Askew said the dog, a black, long-haired, mixed terrier-cocker, had been seen wandering around Picnic Lake Park on Easter Sunday and that it may have been handled by other children. Several dogs in the area were bitten by the rabid dog.

"Apparently this dog was wandering around the Potrero area for at least four days before it died of rabies," Dr. Askew said. "There is every reason to believe that wild animals and other dogs may have been infected with rabies."

The Public Health Laboratory has confirmed the presence of rabies in three wild animals picked up this year further west on Highway 94 in the Jamul area.

Bobcat Killed
On March 14, a bobcat was killed with a fireplace poker when it entered a home in Jamul. It proved to be San Diego County's first laboratory confirmed case of rabies this year. The bobcat was the first wild animal reported rabid in the county since 1963.

On March 25, a fox was killed after attacking a pig in Jamul. Public Health Laboratory tests on the animal were positive for rabies.

On March 28, in Beaver Hollow near Jamul, a bobcat was shot after staying around a residence all day. The Public Health Laboratory tested the animal and found it rabid.

On April 7, a young woman was chased and bitten on the leg by a fox near El Capitan Reservoir. The animal staggered and appeared rabid but was not captured, so laboratory tests for rabies could not be made.

Animal Traps
Dr. Askew said that San Diego County regularly contracts with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service to trap predatory wild animals in the county. "At our request, the two trappers working in the county have conducted an intensive trapping program in the Lawson Valley-Jamul area for the last month," he said. "We have now asked that they extend their efforts to the area around Potrero."

"This will reduce the number of predatory animals most apt to spread rabies in wildlife, but it is imperative that people in the back country be alert to the danger of rabies."

Dr. Askew pointed out that many wild animals do not normally approach humans or come close to human habitations. "When they do this," he said, "it is abnormal behavior. If an animal is behaving abnormally, it may be rabid and should be avoided."

Avoid Animals
"By all means, children should be taught to leave strange dogs and all wild animals alone. Children should not chase strange animals. They should get away from them." Dr. Askew explained that rabies is spread in the saliva of an infected animal through its bite.

"Rabies is always fatal once it develops in an animal or human," he said. "If a human is bitten by a rabid animal, rabies may be prevented from developing only through prompt medical treatment. A person who is bitten by an animal should immediately wash the wound out thoroughly with soap and running water and then see a private physician as soon as possible."

Licensing Required
State and local ordinances require that all dogs in the county four months of age or older must be vaccinated against rabies and licensed. Dogs under four months of age must be confined to the premises of the owner. Dogs in violation of these provisions must be impounded.

Rabies vaccine is effective for two years. Dr. Askew advised dog owners who cannot remember when their dogs were last vaccinated to have the vaccination by a veterinarian at once. "Even if a dog is vaccinated again in less than two years," he said, "the revaccination will only improve the dog's immunity to rabies."

In addition, the Girls' Ensemble will sing excerpts from Broadway Shows, religious music, and four German Folk songs.

BMC Asks Strict Litter Enforcement

The Brookside Mother's Committee is going to ask the California Highway Patrol for stricter law enforcement concerning litter in the Brookside area.

Mrs. Phyllis DuPont, chairman of the group's beautification and improvement section, said at a meeting Tuesday night that her group hopes to clean out the Fairway drainage ditch by the middle of May.

She said it is hoped that by stricter law enforcement, litter, which has piled up in the drainage ditches in that area creating a health and flood problem, will cease to be a problem. Mrs. DuPont said much of it is created by cars traveling through the area.

"Unlawful to Litter" signs have been erected by authorities, as requested by the Committee, Mrs. DuPont reported. Mrs. Diane Klostermeier, group chairman, said that only 20 more signatures are needed to insure street light installation in that area by summer.

This Saturday at 12 midnight, Daylight Savings Time goes into effect, meaning the loss of an hour between Saturday and Sunday.

State Government Is Out of Date, Says State Legislator

Jack Murphy, San Diego Union sports editor, will be the guest speaker Friday at the Lemon Grove Men's Club's noon luncheon-meeting at Michael's Restaurant.

Last Friday, Republican Assemblyman Clair Burgener (76th District) gave a "State of the State" address to the Men's Club members.

"Our present system of state government is a horse and buggy, out-of-date, backwoods form of government," Burgener cited.

"Our present system is hopelessly inadequate," he added. To clarify this, Burgener told of a typical day in the life of a legislator.

"I was in the Senate testifying about a bill of which I was the author of. At the same time, committees on civil service and public works, of which I am a member, were meeting. Also at the same time, the Assembly was voting on measures."

"Naturally I was not able to attend all of these. A legislator can not be at four, three or two places at once," he said.

Burgener added, "And this is not unusual. It happens all the time."

Burgener, currently campaigning for the Republican candidacy for the 38th State Senatorial District, also remarked about the meeting dates of the Assembly.

"Under the present constitution, we meet in general session only once every other year for 120 days. Last year we considered over 6,000 bills in that short time."

"I don't think that democracy is satisfied with this type of arrangement," he said.

Burgener also reported that "agriculture in California is in trouble." "Organized labor promised to supply workers for agriculture following the stoppage of the Bracero program, but it hasn't done it."

Revitalized Business Community Seen By New Chamber President

Dr. Sam Smith was installed as president of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce Saturday night amid an air of resurgent community optimism. The dinner installation was held at the Lemon Grove Bowl, a capacity turnout of approximately 100.

Dr. Smith, a physician-surgeon with the L. G. Medical Group, told the group that 113 new business and professional units have been built during the last five years and that in 1965 Lemon Grove led the county in new dwelling construction. During that period the population has increased by 64 per cent, he said. He also pointed out that the 1965 census placed the exact population center within the geographic boundaries of Lemon Grove.

He told the group that those strong elements of recovery, coupled with giving patrons a commodity known as "service" together with making the chamber of commerce a stronger organization would revitalize the business community. He also made a strong plea for redeveloping loyalty for shopping in Lemon Grove.

Mosher Speaker For LG Democrats

The Lemon Grove Democratic Club will hold its April meeting at 7:15 on Friday, at the home of Mrs. H. J. Warner, 7815 Mt. Vernon St., Lemon Grove.

Frank Mosher, insurance agent of Spring Valley, will discuss the background and the current situation in the La Mesa-Spring Valley Elementary School District.

Installed with Dr. Smith were Robert Browne, vice president; Louise Warren, secretary; and Robert Dryden, treasurer. Retiring President Alex Woods presented a government bond to Mrs. Robert Browne for her services as the chamber secretary earlier this year.

Woods was recipient of a plaque for the year of "outstanding service" and a scrapbook, filled with news clippings of chamber activities during Woods' regime. Guy Ryan, assistant managing editor and community relations director for the San Diego Evening Tribune, was a speaker. Ryan's amusing talk "A Funny Thing Happened to Me on the Way to The News" was in keeping with the spirit of the affair.

Supervisor Henry Boney, Assemblyman Clair Burgener, and Judge Luther Hussey, were among elected officials in attendance.

Congressman Lionel V. A. Deerlin turned up as a surprise visitor just as the ceremonies got under way.

Master of Ceremonies was Max Goodwin, editor of The Lemon Grove Review.

'Matador' Loses Head At Mount Miguel High

This week has been dubbed "Spirit Week" at Mount Miguel High School. Pie-eating contests, popular students contests head.

According to a San Diego County sheriff's office report, the head of the school's "Matador" statue, a 13-foot high replica of the school's symbol, was sawed off sometime between the hours of 4 p.m. Friday and 6 a.m. Monday.

The large hand-carved statue is made of redwood. It was carved at the County Fair in Del Mar nine years ago and purchased by the student body. It is valued at $2,000.

The report stated that the head was sawed at the back of the neck and then broken off. It was left at the foot of the statue.

The sheriff's report further stated that the school paper, "El Trovador," ran a special April Fools edition with a picture of the statue without a head through trick photography, possibly creating an "interest" in the "Matador."

School vice principal Virgil Duea said the school distributed questionnaires Tuesday morning to the faculty to be discussed by the students as to possible suspects and their reasons for committing the "beheading."

At presstime it was not known whether Mount Miguel students were responsible.

Rockwell Fallout Clouds Freedom

The decision by the Grossmont Board of Trustees opposing Nazi leader George Lincoln Rockwell's appearance on campus will affect many people. One person already affected by the decision is student Neil Good.

Some of the other students who opposed Rockwell's appearance are being subjected to harrassing telephone calls.

Good, who on occasion has written for us, is also Commissioner of Assembly and Social Activities at Grossmont College. He was also a leader of a group of students opposed to the appearance of Nazi Rockwell.

Our young protagonist wrote a letter to the board telling them that, after talking with a lawyer, the school would be liable for damage or mental anguish suits if Rockwell caused (Continued on Page 6)

New Presbytery Possible For San Diego County

Action taken last week by Los Angeles Presbytery of the United Presbyterian Church U. S. A. may vitally affect the 265 churches of the denomination which now exist in nine Southern California counties and Hawaii.

In an all-day meeting Apr. 12 at Pacific Beach Presbyterian Church, San Diego, the delegates after lengthy debate approved a plan by which the 205 churches of the present Los Angeles Presbytery would be divided into five presbyteries of approximately equal size.

One of the proposed new 31 United Presbyterian churches presbyteries would include the 31 United Presbyterian churches in San Diego County, with a total membership of 24,695 (as of Dec. 31, 1965). Fourteen of these 31 are located in the city of San Diego.

Minimum Speed Limits To Be Established

Minimum speed limits for each freeway lane will be established in the near future at four different locations in accordance with laws passed at the 1965 session of the California Legislature.

Slow drivers already are supposed to stay out of the faster lanes — but they often do not — and the purpose of the authorizing legislation is to make it easier for enforcement of officers to keep these slow drivers out of the fast lanes of traffic.

If the minimum speed limits prove effective, the California Division of Highways says the changes will result in smoother traffic flow and hopefully fewer accidents. The added safety should come because the vehicles in each lane will all be moving at approximately the same speed. This factor should cut down on "rear-end" mishaps that take place when a driver overtakes and slams into the vehicles ahead of him.

Drivers will be made aware of the new speed zones by signs that will tell them they are approaching such a control area and the minimum speed authorized for each lane.

Slow lanes will always be the outside lane and 45 miles per hour will be the minimum rate. The inside lane will always be the swiftest lane and 60 miles per hour will be the minimum.

In those cases where more than two lanes in one direction exist, the middle lanes will be signed for 55 or 60 miles per hour.

The California Highway Patrol will not assign extra officers to the sections but those drivers found violating the minimum speeds will be stopped.

County Officials Warned Of Loss In Revenues

San Diego County officials were warned this week that incorrect local sales and use tax records may be costing them revenue.

Richard Nevins, Southern California Member of the State Board of Equalization, advised them in a letter to be sure their tax records agree with the Board's.

If they don't agree, Nevins said, tax revenue rightfully belonging to the county could be lost.

Nevins pointed out that local city and county officials should be alert to boundary changes that would affect the local allocation of tax and should report changes to the Board.

The Board's tax records in Sacramento are open for investigation by authorized representatives of the city, Nevins said.

He also announced that the Board of Equalization has lowered its costs of administration 13% since 1957. Collection costs now stand at $1.50 for every $100 or revenue collected, Nevins said.

The San Diego - Coronado Bridge will be exactly 11,013 feet and nine inches long—a shade over two miles—when it is finished in 1969.

Mount Miguel Senior Wins In Nat'l Writing Contest

Jean Gustafson, Mount Miguel high school senior, has been announced as a winner in the 1966 Quill and Scroll National Writing Contest.

The second person in the nine-year history of the school to be a national winner, Jean won a gold Quill and Scroll key and the chance to apply for an Edward J. Nell Memorial Scholarship in Journalism worth $500.

"I was really surprised," said Jean. "I'd almost forgotten about the contest," she added. "I'm very happy and thrilled, and also a little numb from shock!"

Jean is managing editor of Mount Miguel's school newspaper, "El Trovador," and has previously won several awards in county and state journalism competition. She also had a scholarship to work in the journalism workshop at Brigham Young University last summer. In her "spare" time, Jean has a job in a bakery.

Of the five contest divisions—editorial, news story, photography, feature story, and advertisement, Jean entered the news story category. "I didn't mail in my entry until March 1, the deadline for the contest, and I had to send it airmail special delivery to get it there on time," commented Jean.

The Edward J. Nell scholarship is applicable to any college or university offering a major in journalism. Jean plans to attend San Diego State and major in journalism. A member of student government, Mu Alpha Theta, and CSF, Jean's other interests include political science and physics.

Federal Excise Tax On Phone Rates Reinstated To Full Ten Per Cent

The full 10 per cent Federal Excise Tax is again in effect on local and long distance telephone service, Pacific Telephone Manager D. L. Vande Venter reminded customers today.

The tax is being collected on all bills mailed on or after April 1, even though some calls or charges on the bills may have been made before April 1. This is in accordance with the tax law, Vande Venter said.

The application of the increased tax, which started with the bills dated March 25 and after, is being handled in the same manner as was the tax reduction on the December 25, 1965 bills.

The tax, he explained, is not a telephone company charge. The company merely collects it for the government.

As of January 1, the tax had been reduced to 3 per cent. Last month, however, this amount was repealed by congress.

The return to the original 10 per cent is a result of the tax adjustment act of 1966, enacted to help meet the country's needs for additional revenues during the Vietnam Emergency.

The new law reinstates the 10 per cent tax on telephones until April 1, 1968, when it will be reduced to one per cent, and then completely eliminated at the close of that year.

LG Junior High School Marks 300 For Honors

Over three hundred students at Lemon Grove Junior High earned recognition for achievements in either scholarship or citizenship at the close of the third reporting period. Robert Sutton, principal, announced that 76 pupils were named to the honor rolls and that 230 gained good citizenship club membership.

L.G. Man Booked On Smut Charge

Harvey Barry Levitt, 30, of 5151 Dorman Dr., Lemon Grove, who is listed as owner of two San Diego book stores, was arrested last week on a charge of selling obscene books and magazines. He was released from city jail on $550 bail.

Levitt, who also owns a cafe in El Cajon, and who formerly operated a go-go school in Lemon Grove, was arrested April 13 in a cafe in the 7200 block of Broadway, Lemon Grove.

Detective Lt. Earl Cochran said the arrest resulted from a joint investigation by city police and the city attorney's office following recent supreme court decisions regarding obscene material.

Obscene material, Cochran said, was purchased in Levitt's two stores — Broadway Fun Shop and 333 Book Sales.

Sales Taxes Show Increase

Business taxpayers in San Diego and Imperial Counties have increased 3 per cent in the last year and nearly 12 per cent in the last five years, it was reported today by Richard Nevins, Southern California Member of the State Board of Equalization.

Nevins also said that the amount of sales tax distributed annually has increased 13 per cent in San Diego County to $14.5 million and 28 per cent in Imperial County to $1.2 million.

"This 1 per cent local sales tax is a prominent factor in helping to relieve the mounting property tax burden," Nevins said.

He also reported that the business tax collecting cost has gone down. The cost of collecting $100 in revenue dropped from $1.06 to $1.03 last year.

"This is particularly significant," Nevins said, "in this year of rising revenues and duties because there has been no material increase in staff."

Nevins also said the San Diego office supports the "Try San Diego First" campaign and purchases fixtures and equipment in this area whenever possible.

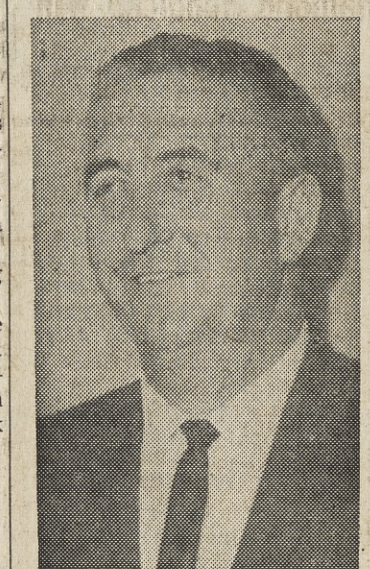

The local offices, headed by District Administrator C. Lloyd Hulbert, are located at 1350 Front St., San Diego, and 1030 Broadway, El Centro.

Gas and Electric Company To Build New Facility

The San Diego Gas & Electric Company will break ground for its new 21-story office building in downtown San Diego this fall. J. F. Sinnott, president, has announced.

Sinnott said the steel and concrete structure will be ready for occupancy in February 1968 and is expected to meet anticipated company needs through 1995.

It will house approximately 1,300 personnel, including those now occupying the Electric Building headquarters, the Engineering Building, and some from four other locations.

Central Tower

The first two floors of the new building will cover most of the block-square site. A central tower, with landscaped plazas on either side of the entrance way, will rise an additional 19 stories.

The tower portion of the building features vertical prestressed sun fins and heat-resistant glass. At night the tower will be lighted with exterior floodlights. The portion of the first two stories extending beyond the tower will be faced with Travertine.

Sinnott said the first floor will be customer oriented. It will include a 400-seat auditorium for company presentations and a customer service area. As a further convenience, the building also will have a drive-in window for paying of bills.

Two-level Garage

Below ground there will be a two-level, 250-car garage for parking of company vehicles. The top two stories of the tower will house building climate-control equipment.

Sinnott said the building will provide 320,000 square feet of floor space. The two-story portion of the building is designed to accommodate the addition of two more floors, totaling 72,000 square feet.

The building was designed by architect Richard George Wheeler.

Action Delayed On Kempton

The La Mesa-Spring Valley School District Board of Trustees delayed action on a request by a District teacher to alter the Amidon system at Kempton Elementary at a special meeting Tuesday night.

Action was postponed for next Monday night's regular board meeting.

The request, proposed by Keith Tucker, chairman of a teacher's committee, asked the board to see if the Amidon program at Kempton couldn't be made more flexible to conform with the curriculum of the rest of the 19 schools in the District.

Tucker said that due to the tenseness of the Kempton program, many teachers are unhappy, some of them even threatening to seek transfers.

Shoestrings' Ice Help In Counteracting Venom

Dr. Herman Rauch, M.D., of Casa de Oro was the guest speaker at Friday's luncheon meeting of the Spring Valley Rotary Club. His subject had to do with snakes and insect bites.

He warned that the old method of using a knife to cut the skin after a snake bite was dangerous as the knife can contain a goodly amount of germs. It is better, he pointed out, if you are on a hike in the country, to carry along a snake bite kit, for most of these kits contain a serum, which will counteract the venom.

Another hint is to have a shoestring and a few ice cubes (or other means of cooling). In case of a bite, the shoestring can be used as a tourniquet, and should be placed above the bite. A stick is good to turn the string. Ice should be applied to the wound, the doctor said, as coolness tends to lower the activity of the toxin. The patient should be kept quiet and should be taken to a doctor as soon as possible. The doctor warned that this time of the year, when it is hot, is the time snakes are "coming out." He said bites from other insects should be treated in a like manner as a snake bite.

Dr. Rauch said scorpions are found mostly in the Arizona area and are extremely dangerous.

ous to small children, sometimes causing death. One member of S.V. Rotary said he has been on many camping trips, and that after sleeping in the open overnight, it is a good practice to shake out your clothes as scorpions get into them during the night.

Clair W. Burgener, Assemblyman 76th District, will be the guest speaker at this Friday's meeting.

RAMBLIN' WITH ED LOOP

A lady came in our store the other day and asked for a "Wetter". It wasn't too long before we discovered she wanted a moistener. In my thirty years in this business, there have been few improvements in moisteners; prices range from 19c to $12.00 for this item. The most efficient one sells for 29c. Seems to me that someone with an inventive mind should be able to dream up a simple device that will do this job properly.

When you want fair prices and better service, stop at Grove Office Supply located at 7890 Broadway in Lemon Grove, or call us, telephone 463-4494 for your office supply needs. Attention, prospective brides and grooms; we give discounts on wedding announcements, etc. and June is just around the corner.

McCombs' Bat Paces Monarchs To Victory

Jeff McCombs, Monte Vista shortstop, stands five-feet six inches tall.

To Grossmont High's Foothill Jers, McCombs stands quite a bit taller in stature, especially after he personally accounted for the Hillers defeat by the Monarchs Tuesday in a Grossmont League baseball game.

McCombs, a three-year veteran on coach Marv Lacey's Monarchs, homered on a 2-2 count in the first inning and then drove in the winning run in the seventh in the Monte Vistas 2-1 victory.

Solo Blast

The chunky slugger was the first batter to face Bill Blaha, Hiller lefthander, in the first inning and promptly greeted the hurler with a solo four-base blast.

Pitcher Bob Forrester, meanwhile, kept the Hillers from scoring, tossing six straight scoreless innings.

In the top of the seventh, Mal Fitzurka led off with a walk, was moved to second on a sacrifice by Jim Dierkop and then scored on a single by McCombs.

Error Hurts

Forrester retired the first two Grossmont batters in the final inning, but ran into trouble when a Monarch infielder booted a ground ball hit by Larry Hancock, giving the Hillers second life.

John Myers, Grossmont outfielder, followed with a single to put Hancock on third.

Forrester then uncorked a wild pitch that stuck under the Foothill backstop, scoring Hancock.

The Monarch pitcher retired the next batter to end the game.

Arnold Swipes

Monte Vista gathered only three hits off Bill Blaha and Bernard Linn, who relieved Blaha.

Geer Breaks Own Record In Shot Put

Monte Vista High's track team will visit El Capitan High Friday in a 3 p.m. Grossmont League track meet.

The Monarchs will be coming off a 78-53 loss to Helix in last week's spike results.

The El Cap Vaqueros will be the decided underdog as a split, forming new school Santana, has hurt the Vags' athletic program.

Monte Vista has showed good form in winning several meets and also in losing to league powers such as Granite Hills and Helix.

Rick Geer set a new school record in the shot put in last week's meet with Helix. Geer tossed the 12-pound ball of lead 51 feet 4 1/2 inches to eclipse his own mark of 51.4, set earlier this year. Geer also won the discus, hurling the iron disc 157.5.

Danny Ungrecht, coach Bob Larsen's fine halfmiler, broke the two-minute standard again, clocking 1:59.6 to chalk up a win. Ungrecht has run under 1:58 previously.

Other winners for the Monarchs were Don Olsen in the two mile (9:39.8), Jerry Nierengarten in the long jump (21.5) and the Monarch 880 relay team composed of Ungrecht, Taylor Copping, Chuck Camp and Phil Luque (1:33.5). Helix High was disqualified in the latter event.

Pat Foley, Monarch freshman, also recorded a top mark, hitting 49 feet in the varsity shot.

Winners for Helix were sprinter Joe Lavage in the 100 and 220 (:10.2, :22.1), 440 runner Ron Koenig (.50.6), miler Rick Rubin (4:28.9), Rick Olander in the 120 high hurdles, 120 low hurdles and pole vault (:15.6, :20.5, 12.6), and John Skalecky in the high jump and triple jump (5-8, 41-0).

Girl Scout Chatter

Louise Simpson and co-leader Mrs. Young recently returned from a camp-out at San Louis Rey National Park with Jr. Cadet Troop 73. Young juniors participating were Wendy Simpson, Berna Jean Young, Marta Grandstedt, Chris Hall, Susan Coulman, Pamela Dye, and Carol Tucker. Though they did their own cooking, and pitched tents, never have they enjoyed the deepness of nature more, according to reports from the troop.

Girls especially enjoyed a hike down the old Indian trail at Santa Ysabel Mission.

Guess we'll never find a substitute for young, eager vitality which makes the simplest event a memorable enjoyment of life.

MURDER TRIAL — Don Lederer, center is the accused murderer in a play to be given at Monte Vista High this weekend.

Monte Vista High Drama Dept. To Present Story of a Murder Trial

The senior class of Monte Vista High School is presenting a drama in three acts tonight and Friday and Saturday evenings. "A Remarkable Incident at Carson's Corners," by Reginald Rose, is the gripping story of a murder trial.

The accused is ultimately absolved of all guilt, while the would-be prosecutors find themselves equally liable for the unfortunate, unnecessary death.

Don Lederer plays the part of Kovalesky, the harmless, peevish janitor accused of the murder who is defended by Sandoval as Alice.

Rick Geer, as the father of the dead boy, decides that the trial should continue, and his own terrible confession places him among the guilty, including Larry La Blanc as Mr. Wright, Jim Keen as Mr. Rogers, Bill McClurg as Dr. Caldwell, Bob Sandoval as Mr. Prince, and Genevieve Didier, the French exchange student, as Miss Frank.

The Road Report . . . BY ARBA

Clearing away the tons of bottles, paper, cans and assorted litter that is thrown on highways costs taxpayers more than $100 million a year. Between 750 and 1,000 Americans are killed and nearly 100,000 seriously injured each year in litter-caused accidents.

a riot on the Fletcher Hills campus.

Neil has come under attacks ever since he first wrote an editorial in the college's paper expressing his views on Rockwell's visit. He has received letters and at a rally, held in protest of the board's decision, he was singled out as an enemy of academic freedom.

Last week the leader of the Academic freedom group sent a letter to the student senate asking for Good's impeachment.

The academic freedom leader cited the addition of Good's title on the letter to the Board as misuse of his office and title. The leader, who is also a representative-at-large at the campus, signed his title on the impeachment letter.

In other words the free speech group was trying to censor Neil for practicing free speech.

Of course the student senate voted against the impeachment. Only the academic leader and the person who seconded the impeachment charge voted for impeachment.

We have no doubt, but that if Good wrote a letter to the board asking for Rockwell to come and if the board decided to let Rockwell come he never would have been dragged through the impeachment proceedings.

It occurs to us, that by trying to impeach Good, which was a form of protest, the Academic Freedom group is doing the same thing they protested against the board doing.

But such is their concept of academic freedom on the college campus.

Politicos-Spectators Mating Produces Bridge Love-Child

Many San Diego citizens call the San Diego-Coronado bridge the project programmed to serve the best interests of politicians—but the State Division of Bay Toll Crossings describe it as a "slender, soaring silhouette of steel—a combination orthotropic and plate girder design."

No matter what the description, the bridge is going to cost about $40 million—up approximately $10 million over the $30 million estimate given when the idea was conceived.

The state's chief engineer said that the increased cost was known by the toll bridge authority for the past two years. That was kept secret!

Governor Brown and Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin have ridden gung-ho for the project on the basis that it is not only desirable but it will boost the local economy. The publicity climax will come with the multi-million dollar bidding—just at election time. For those who espouse the cause of a bay bridge, it would make a good political talking point. We believe political points will be lost by it.

Almost overlooked in the heated reaction to the bridge is that the few Coronado folk who want it are mainly developers south of Coronado. Large holdings on the south bay—and on the oceanfront both north and south of the border, will blossom with development now. Some see the extreme south west corner of San Diego as a future Miami Beach in miniature. The opening of this land by way of a fast link across the bay will make many lucky speculators wealthy.

The bridge was bound to come, one way or another, at some date in the future. Coronadans will have to give up being comfortable as residents of a sleepy little village the way San Diego City did a decade or more ago.

There will be a lingering bitterness about the bridge, however. In the case of a booming city, the forces came from all levels and directions. In the case of Coronado, the force will be that of a "slender silhouette of steel," the love child from the mating of politicians and speculators. Produced will be a structure of beauty, but one that is presently unloved and unwanted.

Tax Collector at Work

The businessman-taxpayer can well paraphrase the teevue commercial about the babe with the dyed hair which only her hairdresser known about it.

With myriad taxes falling due in April, many a businessman may already be bankrupt—but only his auditor knows for sure.

The Passing of Ralph M. Brown

The right to know has lost an ally. That was the editorial comment of the California Publisher in October, 1961, when Ralph M. Brown resigned as Speaker of the Assembly to become a Justice of the Fifth District Court of Appeals in Fresno.

Our comment then was a practical one, Ralph no longer would be around to champion the cause of freedom of information through introduction and fight for passage of laws protecting that freedom. We knew he'd make his court decisions with the same philosophy in mind—that government belongs to the people, that people must be kept informed.

Perhaps we could say again, now, that the people and their right to know have lost an ally because Ralph Brown is dead.

But they haven't. Again, they've lost his personal service, but his heritage will benefit them for generations to come, as a misguided trend continues to develop among government leaders that they know best what the people should be told, the protective wall built by Ralph Brown becomes even more important to the people.

We often concern ourselves that we have not properly honored the living, that their achievements were not properly appreciated until after their death. Perhaps this will be true of Ralph Brown. We in the newspaper business can be consoled in this thinking, however. Though maybe not often or strong enough, we did express our recognition of his contributions to the people's welfare.

At convention in 1958, CNPA President Archie J. Hicks, Jr., then Chairman of our Freedom of Information Committee, presented Ralph with a CNPA award of merit for his sponsoring of anti-secrecy legislation. Our October, 1961, issue of the California Publisher was dedicated to Ralph upon his ascendancy to the bench. He has likewise been cited by the Sigma Delta Chi for these works.

We're happy to have played a part in getting the legislature to name the Open Meeting laws after Ralph Brown, several years after their initial passage.

Typical of the modesty of the man, a "complete" text of the Act produced for wide distribution by Ralph's office in 1961 left out one small paragraph:

Government Code Section 54950.5. "This chapter shall be known as the Ralph M. Brown Act."

Pig's Eye View of HCL

NBC Newsman David Brinkley read the following high-cost-of-living letter to the editor over his nightly newscast recently:

"Dear Sir:

While the great society is screaming about a steel price increase ruining the economy, look what has happened in the last 14 months. Steel went up $2.50 a ton—much screaming and threats from the White House. Bacon went up $500 a ton—silence.

"Now we don't eat much steel at our house, but we do like pork chops and bacon."

Animals Take On National Flavor For County Fair

Livestock, poultry, pigeons and rabbit competition will have a strong national flavor at this year's San Diego County Fair, June 24-July 4.

Fair Manager Roy Welch said the 1966 County Fair and Southern California Exposition has thrown open competition in the four divisions to producers anywhere in the United States.

In prior years only producers from California and adjoining states were eligible to compete in these categories, Welch explained.

Livestock Show

The 5-day senior livestock show, June 30-July 4, will feature a new breed of beef cattle—the pure-white Charolais—for the first time. Five days of junior livestock showings, June 24-28, precede the senior show. The annual Junior livestock auction will be June 29.

Sheep, dairy goats, swine, dairy cattle and beef cattle comprise the senior livestock show. Entry Supervisor William Turnquist said.

The dairy goat and rabbit shows at the County Fair are the nation's largest, according to Turnquist, with 450 and 1400 entries respectively.

Three Days

Poultry, rabbits and pigeons will be shown three days each during the 11-day fair. Poultry will be shown June 24-25-26, rabbits June 28-29-30, and junior and senior pigeons July 2-3-4.

Cheviot and Dorset sheep, two breeds new to the County Fair, have been added to this year's senior sheep competition. Other breeds will be Columbia, Corriedale, Hampshire, Rambouillet, Shropshire, Southdown and Suffolk.

Welch said a record of $56,058 in cash premiums will be paid to junior and senior show exhibitors, with the lion's share, $42,338 allocated to the latter group. Dairy cattle will win $13,852, beef cattle $9,828, sheep $8,874, dairy goats $5,359, swine $5,854, poultry $5,189, rabbits $4,514 and pigeons $2,588.

U.S. National Bank Pays Highest Interest

United States National Bank savings certificates now carry the highest interest rate of any time-certificates announced this week by a major bank.

James P. Mulvaney, Executive Vice President, announced the new higher rate of 5 1/2 percent per annum for savings certificates of $100 minimum when held for a period of one year. The rate takes effect April 1. There is no maximum amount that may be purchased, Mulvaney said, as long as certificates are purchased in multiples of $100.

Other savings certificates of $100 or more, held for 90 days will carry the per annum rate of 5 percent and those for a six month period, the rate of 5 1/4 percent.

This does not affect the U.S. National's regular savings accounts that will continue to earn the rate of 4 percent per annum on a daily basis.

All accounts are protected to $10,000 by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

SD PD Wants Trainees

Forty men are needed now for recruit training with the San Diego Police Department, Police Chief Wesley Sharp has announced.

Young men between the ages of 21 and 34 who are interested in a career in professional law enforcement should apply now for the May recruit class, stated Captain W. D. Gore, Police Training Officer.

Men selected will receive fourteen weeks of intensive training in all phases of law enforcement at full pay. Recruit pay starts at $587 a month, with raises over a three year period to the top salary of $713 a month.

Up-to-date salaries, liberal retirement and insurance programs, and promotion through competitive examination make police work a secure as well as challenging profession, stated Neil Bristow, Police Examiner for the Civil Service Commission.

Qualified men may apply for police examinations Monday through Friday at the Employment Information Center, City Administration Building, 2nd and C Sts. Minimum qualifications for the San Diego Police Department include: height 5'9", weight 145 lbs., excellent vision and general health. A high school diploma or a GED Certificate is required. College courses are desirable.

The $35,000-added Los Alamitos Derby will be held April 23 at Los Alamitos Race Course. The Derby is for top-ranking three-year-old quarter horses.

Canada may become the world leader in paper production.

In addition to the Charolais, beef cattle will offer competition for Hereford, and Short-horn classes.

The rabbit show has three new classes this year, Havana Blues, Cream de Argent, and Harlequin, and offers eight specialty sweepstakes sanctioned by rabbit clubs throughout the United States.

In the poultry division the County Fair will have five different breeds not offered last year. They are: Orpington's White, (AOSV), Cochins (AOSV), Polish Bantams, Rosecomb (AOSV), and African Geese (AOSV).

Special awards in pigeon competition are offered by four organizations. North San Diego County Pigeon Assn. is offering awards to Rollers, West of England Tumblers and Jacobins; and Southern California Roller Club to Frillbacks, Pacific Jacobin and San Diego King clubs are giving awards to winners in those two classes also.

SV Woman's Painting On Exhibit

Mrs. Doris Akers of Spring Valley is one of 15 California housewives whose paintings are currently on exhibit in the Los Angeles area.

Mrs. Akers' "Portrait of Oleida" is among the works flown to Los Angeles from Washington, D.C., where they were first shown in the office of Senator Thomas H. Kuchel.

They will be displayed for a week at a time at Bank of America branches in downtown Los Angeles, Pasadena, Beverly Hills and Panorama City until May 6.

Presented in cooperation with Famous Artists Schools of Westport, Conn., the exhibit features works by housewives from all over the state who paint as a hobby.

Mrs. Akers, who lives at 9491 La Mar St., has successfully combined housekeeping and painting for many years. The English-born housewife has taught art classes, sold a number of portraits, and won numerous awards including ribbons at the La Mesa Foothills Art Association members shows.

General Fund Up 9 Per Cent

The State's General Fund revenues for the first eight months of the current fiscal year totaled $1,199,908,726.

This is 9 per cent above the figure for the corresponding period during the 1964-65 fiscal year, State Controller Alan Cranston reported today.

At the same time, expenditures were $1,727,438,765, up 11 per cent, Cranston said. The General Fund temporarily borrowed $321,000,000 this fiscal year from other state funds to help it through the months when other revenues slow down. The loans, as in years past, will be repaid before June 30.

The cash balance of the General Fund on February 28 was $5,540,775, compared to $2,236,363 a year ago. Major revenue sources during the first eight months of the 1965-66 fiscal year produced the following amounts: Sales tax, $756,205,899; bank and corporation franchise and income taxes, $114,501,918; inheritance tax, $67,519,068; personal income tax, $49,149,113; cigarette tax, $49,875,405, and liquor taxes, $47,366,116.

New Hours Set For Social Security

Arlyn B. Carr, Social Security District Manager, announced that the San Diego office will remain open until noon each Saturday through June. This is in addition to the regular hours of 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on weekdays.

Carr said the Saturday hours are primarily for the convenience of persons who are still working. He said the new Medicare law provides insurance for those over 65 even though they have not retired, but an application must be filed with the Social Security office. This application should be filed sometime during the 3 months before age 65.

Carr urged anyone reaching 65 before August first to contact the Social Security office before the end of this month. The office is at 3211 5th Ave. or call 293-5550.

The purpose of this meeting is to better prepare individuals who never before owned and operated a business of their own. Many "do's and don'ts" will be brought to their attention throughout the proceedings. Quimby said SBAs aim is to inform the potential businessman of the advantages in becoming his own boss, while at the same time pointing out some of the "pitfalls" in owning and operating a business. Questions will be answered after each presentation as well as at the end of the day.

Young men volunteering for enlistment in the United States Army are offered a selection of 73 occupational fields under the Army's "Choice-Not-Chance" vocational training program.

Sergeants O'Keefe and McGill of the U.S. Army Recruiting Station in El Cajon said that among the 73 occupational fields there are more than 270 schools available to men plus 36 for females who qualify. The Commenting on the variety of schools and occupations open in the Army today, the sergeant said: "Qualified men now have the opportunity to fulfill their military commitment, while gaining invaluable training and experience for their future. Opportunities for men volunteering for service in today's Army are strictly only by their own limitations."

For more detailed information concerning the Army's vocational training program young men may contact Sergeants O'Keefe and McGill at the Army Recruiting Station 356 N. Magnolia Ave., El Cajon or phone 442-5700.

Board of Equalization To Test Property Values

Appraisers from the State Board of Equalization have begun field work on a program designed to test the average relationship between assessed values and market values of taxable property in San Diego County, according to Richard Nevins, Fourth District Member of the Board of Equalization. This is part of a statewide intercounty equalization program which is continually in progress throughout the State.

The primary purpose of this work, Nevins explained, is to see that this county gets its proper share of state school funds. Other things being equal, the State furnishes more aid to school districts with limited taxable resources than to wealthy districts.

Van Deerlin Files For Third Term

Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin (D-S.D.) has announced his candidacy for a third term as Congressman from the 37th District.

In a short statement, Van Deerlin said, "My record in office should be the only issue of this campaign. Have I given full and considerate attention to my constituents, individually and collectively, regardless of party? Have I worked hard to advance the best interests of my district? Have I supported the aims and ideals of my party? If the answer to these questions is 'yes,' then I ask the support of the citizens of my district in returning me to the House of Representatives for another two years of service which I pledge will be faithful and as dedicated as those in the past. I will, for example, devote special effort to improving the employment climate in San Diego."

In Congress, Van Deerlin is a member of the interstate and foreign relations committee and of subcommittees on special investigations and communications and power.

He is opposed in the Democratic primary by Oscar P. Gregg, a teacher at Sycamore School in Santee. Sam Vener, a National City vegetable grower, is the Republican candidate.

Boney Names Two On Litter Drive

Second District Supervisor Henry Boney recently announced the appointment by the Board of Supervisors of two East County residents to the San Diego County "War Against Litter Committee." The two appointed were Robert Browne of Lemon Grove and William Faulwetter of La Mesa.

Boney said that the San Diego County Litter Committee was the first of its kind in the nation to win the "Keep America Beautiful" award. The award was made in October by Lady Bird Johnson in Washington, D. C.

"This is a working committee made up of community leaders throughout the County," Boney said, "I know that Mr. Browne and Mr. Faulwetter will make a sizable contribution to the efforts of this important community program."

Robert Browne of 3282 Main St. in Lemon Grove is an appliance dealer and has been active in the Chamber of Commerce and the Lions Club. He has previously served as Chairman of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce anti-litter campaign. Faulwetter is a prominent La Mesa attorney and currently serves on the Board of Directors of the Spring Valley Fire District. He lives in La Mesa.

SD Gets $496,000 Highway Users Tax

SACRAMENTO — State Controller Alan Cranston reported today that San Diego County received $496,780.91 as its share of highway users taxes distributed in March by his office.

State apportionments for the month totaled $61,082,926, he said. The amount distributed was derived from these sources: Gasoline tax, $41,590,933; by transfer from the motor vehicle fund, $15,400,864; diesel fuel tax, $1,721,747; by transfer from the motor vehicle transportation tax fund, $2,294,326; and the balance from miscellaneous sources.

SD County Is Largest Single MWD Customer

The Metropolitan Water District of Southern California was organized in 1928 for the purpose of supplying the area with its boundaries with water for domestic, industrial and other uses. "and incidentally to provide a means of creating a water supply for such surrounding areas as later may find it advantageous to join the enterprise."

San Diego County joined what had originally been an MWD group of 13 cities (Anaheim, Beverly Hills, Burbank, Compton, Fullerton, Glendale, Long Beach, Los Angeles, Pasadena, Santa Monica, Santa Ana, Santa Monica, and Torrance) in 1946.

While MWD now extends into the six Major Southern California counties of Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino, San Diego, and Ventura, serving 118 cities and many large unincorporated areas, San Diego County is — by no means "incidentally" — the largest single water customer in the MWD member-agency complex.

The Metropolitan Water District is governed by directors who are appointed by the various agencies of the district. Voting on MWD board action is based on the amount of assessed valuation in each member agency.

The San Diego County Water Authority has three representatives serving on the MWD board. They are:

Fred A. Heilbron, chairman of the San Diego County Water Authority board of directors, who has been secretary of the MWD board since 1951. Heilbron also serves on the MWD executive committee and the water problems committee.

Hans H. Doe, CWA board secretary, who is a member of the operations and personnel committee and the lands and rights of way committee. He has served as an MWD director for the past seven years. He represents the Vista-San Marcos area through the Buena Vista Municipal Water District in the County Water Authority.

Harry Griffen, CWA board treasurer who represents the huge Helix Irrigation District in the County Water Authority, who was appointed to the MWD board in January of 1963. At MWD the Lemon Grove resident serves as a member of the finance and insurance committee and the lands and rights of way committee.

For the past quarter century (the mammoth aqueduct from the Colorado began to pump water up over the mountains in 1941) the MWD has been supplementing the water supply of Southern California with water from the Colorado River.

To meet the tremendous new demand for growing Southern California's homes and offices and industries (present population in the MWD area is 9.5 million, is expected to double in the next quarter century), MWD has contracted for delivery of 2 million acre feet of water per year from the State through the Feather River Project. For Southern California, this comes to 1.8 billion gallons a day — in addition to the billion gallons daily from the Colorado.
